2. One copy of the unedited transcript (the “Blues”) is distributed on blue paper to each Member at the earliest opportunity following its production.
3. Members may submit edits to the Blues in accordance with the provisions of sections 5 and 6. Members are encouraged to submit their edits at the earliest opportunity following receipt of the Blues. Returned Blues must be clearly signed by the Member.
4. Members may provide advance copies of their Statements and other interventions, in electronic or paper formats, to the Office of the Clerk. These items will be checked against delivery. Members are encouraged to submit the correct spelling of names of individuals who are recognized in the Gallery.
5. The final deadline for the submission of edits to the Blues is 5:00pm on the third calendar day following the commencement of a period of prorogation or extended adjournment. No edits will be accepted after that time.
6. The Clerk shall provide for the editing of Hansard in accordance with the following:
 - a) A Member may not make material changes in the meaning of what was said in the House. A Member is not permitted to make any insertion as an afterthought nor to strike out a passage which he or she regrets having spoken. Revisions shall be limited to correcting errors in grammar, spelling and punctuation; ensuring that the correct parliamentary forms are observed; and minimizing repetition and redundancies;
 - b) The Speaker shall have the ultimate authority to determine whether or not a Member’s suggested revision is to be permitted;

- c) Unless a Member can demonstrate to the satisfaction of the Speaker that he or she has been misreported, a Member may not change the sense of anything that he or she has been recorded as having said; and
- d) The editors of Hansard may alter a sentence to render it more readable but may not go so far as to change its meaning. Editors must ensure that Hansard is a faithful reflection of what was said; any changes made, whether by Members or editors, are for the sole purpose of improving the readability of the text, given the difference between the spoken and written word.

QUESTION PERIOD GUIDELINES

No clear-cut and precise Rules have been developed for Question Period.

Question Period proceedings are generally conducted in accordance with a combination of practices and precedents and Beauchesne citations.

Question Period ought to be respected for the realization of the principal objective of “the seeking of information from Government”.

As indicated earlier, the traditional purpose of questions, namely the seeking of information or pressing of action by the Government, has shifted and broadened in many legislatures. I would suggest that there are four objectives of the Question Period:

1. as a vehicle for individual Ordinary Members to raise the individual grievances of their constituencies;
2. as an opportunity for the House as a whole to probe the actions of the Executive;
3. as a means of illuminating the differences of opinion on the policies of the Executive on major issues and judging the Parliamentary skill of individual Members in the House; and
4. as a means of obtaining information by the House from the Government.

Question Period also enables the Government, through the Ministers' answers, to disseminate information about a particular policy decision or issue to the House.

The following guidelines have been compiled to deal with the most frequently encountered situations in Question Period, with the objective of ensuring the most effective and economic use of the time available by both Ordinary Members and the Cabinet.

Situations which are not covered by these guidelines will be dealt with in accordance with Nunavut precedents, where any exist or, failing them, the practices of the House of Commons as set out in Beauchesne 6th Edition and elsewhere.

The guidelines have been set out under several self-explanatory headings, and every effort has been made to write them in clear, simple and easily understood language.

A Question must:

- a) be addressed by indicating the Minister to whom it is directed;
- b) be a question;
- c) seek information;
- d) deal with a matter reasonably assumed to be within the present knowledge of a Minister;
- e) consist of a single question;
- f) be brief;
- g) be within the administrative responsibility of the Government;
- h) relate only to the current responsibilities of the Minister to whom it is directed; and
- i) comply with the Rules and practices of the House regarding language and speech content.

1. A Question must not:

- a) be an argument or a debate;
- b) contain a preamble exceeding one carefully drawn sentence;
- c) be hypothetical;
- d) be trivial, vague, meaningless or frivolous;
- e) seek an opinion;
- f) contain inferences, impute motives or cast aspersions upon any person;

- g) require a lengthy and detailed answer;
 - h) repeat an earlier question which was answered, taken as notice, or to which an answer was refused at that sitting;
 - i) anticipate a matter listed on the Order Paper for consideration at that sitting;
 - j) refer to a matter that is before courts (sub-judice);
 - k) seek information about proceedings in a Committee which has not yet been reported to the House;
 - l) be addressed to the Speaker (information relating to matters under the Speaker's jurisdiction must be obtained privately);
 - m) seek information about matters which are secret, such as decisions or proceedings of Cabinet; or
 - n) request a Minister to provide legal interpretation.
2. A Supplementary Question:
- a) may be asked to obtain clarification of the answer or answers provided by the Minister to whom the original question was directed;
 - b) therefore should not require any preamble; and
 - c) only three supplementary questions on the same original question can be asked.
3. When answering a Question, a Minister may:
- a) answer it;
 - b) take it as notice; or
 - c) decline to answer it by saying nothing.

4. Answers to questions must:
 - a) reply to the question asked; and
 - b) be brief.
5. Answers to Questions must not:
 - a) be lengthy;
 - b) contain argument or debate; and/or
 - c) provoke debate.

GUIDELINES FOR THE TABLING OF DOCUMENTS

 - c) Reports of Standing and Special Committees;
 - d) Bills, Motions, Orders of the Day and other House publications; and
 - e) Budget materials and departmental/Crown corporation business plans.
2. In cases where a document described in section 1 is initially available in only one language, it will be permitted to be immediately tabled, with the appropriate translation to be tabled at the earliest opportunity.
3. From time to time, Ministers may wish to table, or be requested to table, documents not described in section 1 (e.g. technical studies, discussion papers and other items of interest). These documents may be tabled in one or more languages.
4. Documents tabled by MLAs in their capacity as individual Members (e.g. correspondence from constituents, news clippings and other items of interest) may be tabled in one or more languages.
